Letter from the Editors

Dear Readers,

Fall is upon us, and gorgeous motifs celebrating the season abound. This beautiful imagery naturally lends itself to coloring pages. Fall florals, pumpkin patches, maple leaves, acorns, harvest wheat, and entire cornucopias are a few of the stunning images that fill the world around us during the autumn season.

In 4 Gorgeous Fall Coloring Pages for Adults, designer Carol Foldvary-Anderson takes you through an autumn home as you approach the front door, sit down for a meal, and venture to the back garden. If you're eager for Thanksgiving and thrilled for the experience to celebrate all you are grateful for, take an evening to color the Bountiful Cornucopia Coloring Page (p. 6). If pumpkins are your favorite fall motif, don't miss the Sunflower Pumpkin Patch Coloring Page (p. 7). Choose any of the four pages below that draws your attention, and experience the relaxation that is adult coloring.

You can find even more free coloring pages in our collection of 43 Adult Coloring Pages \(PDF Downloads\) and more coloring books for adults in 6 Free Printable Coloring Books \(PDF Downloads\).

Hello everyone who loves to play and experiment with color,

Thank you to FaveCrafts.com. I am excited to be sharing this eBook of autumn images just in time to celebrate the fall color and festivities of the season. Summer is behind us and cooler weather is ahead. Fall is a great time to prepare for the coming holidays and coloring is the best activity I know of when I plan on relaxing and spending my time now that we have moved indoors.

The colored sample of the Cornucopia image (p. 11) represents two mediums that I have combined to create a colorful page. I worked with both watercolors and also colored pencils to give the effect that you see. I work both ways, colored pencils first, then watercolors on top, and also watercolors first and colored pencils afterwards. It all depends on the look I am trying to achieve and what looks best to me at the time. Large areas are easily colored with watercolors and the small spaces can be drawn in with pencils. Many artists work this way to get just the look they feel they need to communicate, what they wish to convey. Give this combination of mediums a try; you may just like the look you achieve. My suggestion is to print the image on either heavy cover card stock paper or if your printer can handle it thin watercolor paper.

My world is surrounded by textures, shapes, forms and color. I consider myself to be an all around artist "Creative" working in a varied amount of mediums, and many at the same time. Mediums that catch my fancy, or when working on a particular project that needs to be completed for a client, mixing up my mediums is my thing. It's all about the art and the look I am trying to achieve. With so many wonderful products on the market to color, play and experiment with, why be typical and do the expected? In these adult coloring pages, I would hope you will consider different and unique color combinations and even fill in some of the white spaces with your own circles, patterns and lines.

I also encourage you to share with me your completed coloring pages; I would love to see them and I would be happy to post them on one of my many social media sites. You can find my contact information on my website, varyCarol.com.

Make your fall holidays colorful, safe and happy!

Carol
